

Before: Public Health, new professional

SUSAN LOUIS
1234 Arial Court
Atlanta, GA 30325
(404) 555-1212
susan@yahoo.com

EDUCATION

Emory University, Rollins School of Public Health

Master of Public Health, May 2007

Thesis: Violence in Schools: Preventable Genocide

University of Georgia

Bachelor of Arts, Psychology major, Performing Arts minor, May 2005

Graduated with highest honors

EXPERIENCE

Violence Prevention Program, Intern Atlanta, GA Oct. 2005 – present
Responsibilities include: researching, designing and evaluating interventions to halt violence in local schools. Write curriculum for students. Study violence prevention in teens. Assist with coordinating media presentations and organize meetings to discuss findings.

Athens Department of Public Health, Intern Athens, GA Summer 2004
Responsibilities include: working on surveys, assisting supervisors with interpretation and helping write protocols for focus groups. Worked in group that created instrument to ascertain validity for survey. Received approval from school system to conduct survey. Focused on mission of collecting enough data for a well structured survey.

Dawg Eat Dawg, Wait Staff Athens, GA 2001 - 2005
Responsibilities include: greeting, serving and cashier duties.
Served local and tourist customers. Covered a large number of tables due to short staffing during busy months.

University of Georgia, Resident Advisor Athens, GA Sep. 2003 – May 2005
Responsibilities included: advising students regarding school and social issues, maintaining rules in dorm and assisting Building Director during opening and closing procedures. Developed three major programs discussing eating disorders for Hall. Invited neighboring dorms to partner for Walk for the Cure fundraising event that raised $25,000 for research. Organized sports teams and exercise program for residents to encourage healthy attitudes and lifestyles.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Delta Delta Delta Sorority, Membership Chair
Habitat for Humanity, Arranged spring break trip to build a home
Dawg Camp, Advisor for first-year students